KARPIS GANGSTERS TAKEN

LEGION HOST TO HONOR COMMANDER MURPHY

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—The California primary is slightly encouraging to the dark horses. The successful slate nominally belongs to Hoover but is counted more for bargaining purposes than as actual votes for the former president, as no one considers him a real candidate.

The defeated Hearst - Merriam ticket was pledged to Landon, though his adherents hasten to point out that there are at least eighteen of the uninstructed delegation who support the Kansan. Nevertheless it's a setback to Landon and the backers of Vandenberg, Steiwer and other aspirants are correspondingly perked up. Especially since the vote polled in Maryland by Breckenridge against the massed forces of the administration has made the Republican nomination seem more desirable.

It is entertaining that Landon's geographical availability as a Westerner should give him Eastern strength, which in turn weakens him in the West because it labels him as the candidate of the East. To many Easterners anything the other side of the Alleghenies is West. They still don't realize there are two Wests; the Kansas West and the Rocky-Mountain West.

ALICE LONGWORTH.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Somebody got excited in putting the flag up on the old post office today. The field of stars was on the bottom and the stripes on top. In other words, the flag was upside down. George Christoph, past commander of the V. F. W., noticed the error and called it to the attention of the WPA. The flag was changed.

The Free Public library's board today had authorized the purchase of an automatic water cooler for the comfort of patrons this summer. Spring cleaning at the library has been started.

New Ultimatum Given By Earle

Renews Threat To Veto Appropriation To Pitt If His Demand Is Not Met

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 7. — Another ultimatum of the "or else" variety was dropped in the laps of the University of Pittsburgh administration today by Gov. George H. Earle.

Renewing his threat to veto the commonwealth's annual appropriation to Pitt unless Chancellor John G. Bowman meets his demand that the alumni elect half the university's board of trustees, the governor said he would divert the money, used to enable students to attend the university through scholarships, to other state institutions, namely, the University of Pennsylvania, Temple University, or Penn State.

Speaking before the spring initiation banquet of Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary activities fraternity, Governor Earle dropped his ultimatum in the midst of an audience which included students, faculty and administration officers.

Red Flag Mystery At Washington, D. C.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Capitol guards rubbed their eyes in amazement as the sun rose over the plaza this morning and revealed a red flag flying from one of the two flag staffs immediately in front of the new supreme court building.

They tried to haul it down and couldn't. Whoever ran up the banner of the Internationale did so in such a manner that it could not be hauled down in the usual way, and the red-faced guards finally had to call out the fire department. The fire laddies ran up a ladder and burned the red symbol at the top of the pole.

A force of about 60 guards is employed around the supreme court building, of which only four are on duty at night. An immediate investigation was started.

While there were no clues, the capitol police were inclined to the theory that it was due to some crank or practical joke artist.

The red banner was of regulation flag size, about six feet by three.

Riggle May Go On Stand Today

Washington, Pa., Man On Trial For Death Of Fellow Lodge Officer

PROSECUTION IS NEARING CLOSE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 7.—Fighting for his life in one of Washington county's most sensational trials, David G. Riggle, prominent local insurance man, was expected to take the witness stand here today to deny charges he killed his closest friend.

Riggle is charged with the murder of James C. Algeo, 59, Washington, last September 19 on a lonely country road near here.

Demanding the electric chair, the commonwealth opened its case by promising to show Riggle took Algeo into the country and shot him to death when an auditor's report showed Riggle to be $2,700 short in a lodge account. Both men were officers in the lodge.

Prosecution Nears Close.

Unless too much time is required for cross-examination, District Attorney James C. Bane said he believed the prosecution would end its case today.

A parade of witnesses called by the state yesterday gave much damaging testimony, the greatest blow being dealt by Mrs. Letonia Meeks, an acquaintance of Riggle's, who lived near the scene of the tragedy.

Sitting calmly and impassive, Riggle listened closely as the woman testified that on the last day Algeo was seen alive the defendant, pale and nervous, hair tousled and blood stains and dirt on his clothing, called at her home and asked if he could wash.

She testified that his only comment was:

"I have been in a mixup."

(International News Service)

Anniversary Is Celebrated By K. Of C. Members

Knights And Guests Observe 36th Anniversary Wednesday Night

CHARTER MEMBERS ACCORDED HONOR

Former State Deputy McDonough Makes Chief Address Of Evening

With 120 knights and guests in attendance, the 36th birthday of St. Mary's Council of the Knights of Columbus was auspiciously celebrated Wednesday night at an anniversary dinner program in the dining hall of the knights' home on North Jefferson street.

The banquet festivities brought the first of a series of notable "anniversary month" celebrations which will mark the founding of the council by a band of 40 men on May 27, 1900.

Pay Tribute To Founders

Honor to the council founders was paid in glowing tributes by speakers last night and five of the charter members who were in attendance occupied places of honor. The dinner was followed by an appropriate anniversary program, presided over as toastmaster by Grand Knight Thomas Flanagan.

Occupying reserved seats at the speakers' table were priests from most of the parishes of New Castle and outlying districts. The Rev. Joseph A. Doerr, of St. Joseph's church, pronounced the invocation before dinner.

Grand Knight Flanagan, speaking for the council, voiced a welcome to all at the outset of the program. Flanagan is one of the youngest of grand knights to serve here.

"The same ideals that dominated our council in the beginning," the grand knight told his fraternal brothers, "still dominate the council today." He told them that those ideals have ever been uppermost since the institution of the Knights of Columbus in New Castle.

Charter Members Presented

One by one the priests were introduced by the toastmaster and then the five charter members were presented. The lodgemen stood up and

Entire Karpis-Barker Gang In Kidnaping Cases Now In Custody

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., May 7.—The G-men today wiped out the last remnants of the notorious Karpis-Barker gang with the arrest of Harry Campbell, reputed "brains of the gang," and Sam Coker, a minor member of the ring, in two Toledo raids.

G. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, personally led a large force of agents in the raids. Both men were seized without the firing of a shot in the same fashion that Alvin Karpis and Fred Hunter, a henchman, were seized last Friday night in New Orleans.

Campbell's girl bride, described by Hoover as "just an innocent little girl" who is not suspected of any part in the gang's crimes, also was taken into custody but probably will be released later after questioning.

The arrests, Hoover said, clean up the major angles of the Bremer kidnaping case in St. Paul.

Arrests At Toledo, O.

The two raids were accomplished in utmost secrecy. Hoover flew from Washington to Toledo last night. At 5 a. m. today, the G-men struck. Campbell and his 20-year-old wife were seized in a Monroe street apartment house, and Coker, a 40-year-old Oklahoma paroled robber, in a private residence nearby.

Swiftly the two men were whisked by chartered plane to Cleveland.

LANDON FAR OUT IN FRONT

Tuesday Voting Increases Lead

Claim More Than Half Delegates At Cleveland Convention

BORAH'S BIG TEST COMES IN OHIO

By GEORGE HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, far out front in the contest for the Republican presidential nomination, materially increased his delegate strength in Tuesday's primary and convention voting, despite a slight set-back in California.

California's 44 delegates will go to the Cleveland convention unpledged, but the Landon people claim that in the final showdown from 15 to 25 of the delegation will be found voting for the Kansas governor. The uninstructed slate won over a slate definitely committed to Landon.

Wins Over Borah

On the other hand, the Kansas governor strikingly demonstrated his strength in South Dakota and Tennessee. In South Dakota, an uninstructed slate of eight delegates, all of whom are committed to Landon, won over a slate committed to Senator Wm. E. Borah of Idaho. That result surprised even the Landon camp itself, for Senator Borah had been reckoned a strong figure there. It was the first out-and-out test of strength between Landon and Borah in a midwest state, and the Kansas governor won rather easily.

In Tennessee, the Republican state convention virtually delivered the state's 17 delegates to Landon. One district remains in doubt, but the prospects are that the Tennesseans will be found voting for Landon at Cleveland unless the delegates disobey the instructions of the convention.

More Than Half

On the whole, the Landon managers figure that of the convention delegates chosen Tuesday they will have considerably more than half. They are virtually assured of South Dakota's 8 and Tennessee's 17, plus whatever they get from California's 44. And they figure on a minimum of 15 there.

The next primary test of importance comes in Ohio next Tuesday. Gov. Landon did not enter the Ohio contest, nor did his supporters there put up a slate. The Ohio field was left clear to Senator Borah and to the state organization's favorite son candidate, Robert A. Taft, son of the late president.

Ohio Test For Borah

Ohio will offer the supreme test of Senator Borah's candidacy. Unless the senator is able to come out of Ohio with a creditable showing his chances at Cleveland would appear well-nigh hopeless. Borah delegates won in Wisconsin, in downstate Illinois districts, and he has a scattering in other northwestern states outside of his own Idaho. But he has met with rebuffs in the eastern states, and appears without any support of any consequence east of the Alleghenies.

ALL ETHIOPIA TO BE ANNEXED

suring announcement of annexation of the former realm of Emperor Haile Selassie. It was expected at midnight.

Law and Order Restored.

Addis Ababa, May 7.—After four days and nights of an unimaginable reign of black terror, this one-time capital of the Queen of Sheba today was commencing to take on a semblance of law and order under its modern Italian conquerors.

Ethiopia was giving way to Italiopia, which may be the name that Italy bestows on this ancient black African kingdom once annexation has been completed.

It was a city of white fluttering flags today, as the banners of surrender floated from almost every occupied native hut that was still left standing in the riot-torn, plundered capital.

No Assurance.

London, May 7.—Premier Benito Mussolini in his hour of victory over Emperor Haile Selassie has avoided giving any official assurances to Great Britain that British interests in Ethiopia would be respected, the foreign office made it clear today.

Despite some Italian press comment that French and British interests in Ethiopia would be respected, it was stated in Whitehall that nothing official to this effect had reached the government in the past few days. Lake Tsana, Britain's chief interest in Ethiopia, remains surrounded by and in control of Il Duce's Fascist soldiers.

HARRY CAMPBELL TAKEN BY G-MEN AT TOLEDO, OHIO

There Campbell's wife and Coker were taken quietly by Hoover and several agents to the office of J. P. McFarland, head of the bureau of investigation unit here, and Campbell taken on by plane to St. Paul.

Not until Hoover, unshaven and tired, made his announcement in McFarland's 14th floor office in a downtown skyscraper, was the seizure of the two long-sought gangsters revealed.

Contrary to his usual practice of issuing short announcements, Hoover conversed at length with newspapermen. Only as to the details of the raids was he reticent.

Notorious Desperado

Campbell, whom he described as "one of the most notorious desperadoes to come out of the southwest in 10 years," and the co-plotter with Karpis of the Edward G. Bremer kidnaping, will be charged with kidnaping in that case, Hoover said.

Coker will be returned to Oklahoma, where he faces a prison term of 18 years as a parole violator. Oklahoma officials were notified of his capture and word was expected from them today as to when they would send officers for him.

Hoover made the surprising disclosure that Karpis and his entire gang hid out in Cleveland during the fall and summer of 1934. There is evidence to show, he declared, that the gang was "tied up with some petty politicians in Cleveland."

Dr. Joseph Moran, who performed fingerprint and face lifting operations on members of the gang, was with the mob in Cleveland, Hoover learned, but now, the chief of the G-men declared, "Moran is at the bottom of Lake Erie."

G-Men Made Capture.

The $2,500 reward for Campbell's capture will not be paid, Hoover said, because "full credit for the capture goes to the G-men." He charged postal inspector with lack of cooperation.

"I want it understood," Hoover declared, "that the G-men receive full credit for rounding up the entire Karpis-Barker gang.

"The postal inspectors had nothing to do with it, and there was noticeable lack of cooperation on the part of the postal inspectors."

He refused to enlarge on this statement.

Born Near Oil City.

Oil City, Pa., May 7.—Harry Campbell, Karpis gangster caught by G-men today in Toledo, O., was born at McClintockville, Pa., near here, according to government records.

The Campbell family, residents who remembered them recalled, were regarded in the community as "highly respectable", and left here for Kansas when Harry was 11 years old.

Campbell's father was a paperhanger and painter, it was said. No one here has been in touch with the family since they departed, and no relatives of the family are known to reside here at the present time.

A program of dance music played by a prominent orchestra, contributed much to the evening's enjoyment. The entire Sisterhood with their president, Mrs. Norman Ehrlich, were responsible for the success of the occasion, having cooperated splendidly on arrangements.

The hours from 9 until 12 o'clock noon, were well spent in completing a large number of articles for the hospital. Other women interested, including the Jameson Aide Society members, assisted with routine activities. The results were most gratifying.

On May 20, the same organization will preside as hostess group, when this splendid work will be furthered. The Council extends a cordial invitation to others in the city interested in the progress of the hospital, to attend the meeting on this date. The hours from 9 until 12 will be observed.

DINNER-BRIDGE FOR WANDA WHITE

Complimenting Miss Wanda White, whose marriage to Glenn E. McBride will take place in the near future, a dinner-bridge of charming appointments was given Wednesday evening by the Misses Ruth Woodworth and Lucille Moore in the home of the former on East North street.

The guest list comprised club associates who enjoyed dinner by candlelight, at a long table centered with yellow roses and snapdragons. A yellow and white color theme was carried throughout appointments, with the places marked with name cards carrying a bridal motif, topped with miniature white wedding bells.

In the evening the girls showered the bride-to-be with beautiful gifts of a miscellaneous nature as a surprise, and spent delightful hours following, at bridge. Smart prizes were awarded winners at the conclusion of the delightfully informal affair.

Prominent Couple Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Campbell celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Wednesday at their home, 722 Court street. A family dinner was held at the noon hour with all the children and grandchildren present. In the afternoon and again in the evening, receptions were held, hours being from 2 to 4 and 7 to 10, with some 150 friends and relatives calling to extend greetings and congratulations.

For the occasion the home was beautifully decorated with baskets and bouquets of cut flowers, many of them gifts from friends. A gold and white color scheme was developed open in appointments, the table being especially pretty with a large tiered wedding cake surmounted with a bride and groom in miniature, being used for the centerpiece. Tall gold tapers in crystal candelabra, completed the setting.

Aides at tea were Misses Mary Alice White and Sarah Owens, who poured, and other including Miss Mildred Gill, Mrs. Earl Campbell, Mrs. George Campbell, Mrs. Earl Gill. Out of town guests were Mrs. George Clutton of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. George Gardner and family, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coates and family, Youngstown.

Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. George Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. John Houk, Mrs. McMunn, Mr. and Mrs. McClain, Miss Lehman, Mrs. Sarah Heberling, Miss Jeanette Heberling. Fourteen young girls who are members of Mrs. Campbell's Sunday school class at the First M. E. church also called.

Mrs. Campbell received her guests yesterday, beautifully gowned in a poudre blue silk dress with which a shoulder bouquet of Talisman roses contrasted. Mr. Campbell wore a yellow rose for a boutonniere with his conventional suit, the flowers adding a lovely bit of sentiment as they were gifts from the grandchildren.

In connection with the anniversary it is of interest to recall that Mrs. Campbell's maiden name was Jane Wimer of Princeton, where the marriage took place May 6, 1886. The late Rev. Peter Riffer was the officiating clergyman.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have been lifelong members of the First M. E. church, where they still continue their active leadership. They are the parents of five children, all of whom are living, and were present Wednesday. These include Mrs. Earl Gill, Earl Campbell, George and Chester Campbell, all of New Castle, and Robert Campbell of East Palestine. There are six grandchildren.

Mr. Campbell, who is familiarly known as "Tom", was associated with the Carnegie Steel company for 48 years, retiring from active service five years ago.

Spring was brought out in the table appointments where a dainty lunch was served at a later hour by the hostess, clusters of violets "everywhere" making the setting most attractive. The center of the table was graced with individual bouquets banked around several tall lighted white tapers. The hostess was assisted with the menu, by her mother, Mrs. Charles McClelland and Alice Mae Huffman, the latter with Mrs. Carrie Wharton, who shared as special guests.

On Wednesday, May 20, the girls will be entertained by Elizabeth Morrow.

RAINBOW GIRLS HAVE BANQUET FOR MOTHERS

It was "Appleblossom Time" in the Cathedral Wednesday evening, as a profusion of the fragrant spring blooms was used everywhere in decorating the dining room for the annual Mothers and Daughters' banquet given by Rainbow Order for Girls, New Castle Assembly 1.

In the neighborhood of 90 guests were seated about the several long tables which carried yellow, white and green appointments throughout the very flavorful casserole menu. Afterwards the group listened to a most interesting program which was under the supervision of Mrs. Walter De Arment, mother advisor.

Charlene Bates gave a beautiful toast to the mothers, with Martha Bigley, a member of the Advisory Board, following with one to the girls. There was a reading entitled "The Check Book," by Cecelia Turner; a violin solo, "Poem of Love," by Vance Dufford, accompanied at the piano by Jane Bryan, worthy advisor of the Rainbow Assembly.

"New Shoes" was the title of a second reading by Peggy Jennings, and "By the Brook," the title of a trio number by Vance Dufford, violinist; Charlene Bates, cellist; Jane Bryan, pianist; Audrey Bridenbaugh contributed still another reading, "Cornelia's Jewels," and the program was concluded with a piano solo by Natalie Ehrlich.

A business session followed the entertainment at which Eleanor McFall was elected new worthy advisor; Glenna Good, worthy associate advisor; Naomi Kennedy, Charity; Charlene Bates, Hope; Geraldine Flick, Faith.

Plans were made for a June dance on the 26th, in the Cathedral, with Glenna Goad general chairman. Invitations for this affair, which no doubt will be as outstanding an affair as a similar one held a short time ago, will be in the mails within a few days.

The next regular meeting of the Rainbow Assembly for Girls will take place on May 20, when Eleanor McFall becomes the new worthy advisor at installation ceremonies which will be open to the public.

For much of the success attending last night's event credit is reflected upon Mrs. Bessie Coates Pitzer, who capably arranged the dinner details, and Mrs. Thelma Propst who had charge of the decorations, both cooperating splendidly with the Rainbow group.

HEADING TOWARD THE LEAGUE?

SOME of the experts at Geneva believe the Pan-American conferenc to be held in Buenos Aires, and in which the United States will participate, will head this nation toward membership in the League of Nations. It is difficult, despite this viewpoint, to conceive of the United States joining the league since it has become practically a dead issue, when it did not hold membership during the days when it was believed the world group would be a powerful force against aggression. The league's efforts have been completely ineffectual in the Italian and German controversies. These two countries have successfully defied it, and from present indications their defiance will bring no drastic penalties. Membership in a group which cannot accomplish the purpose for which it was formed probably will not be attractive to the United States unless the league is reorganized in such a manner that it will be the force originally intended by its sponsors.

TWO KINDS OF ADVANTAGES

Cities and towns make progress principally from the one of two causes. First there is the advantage of a specially favorable location. A town with a fine position as a railroad center, or on some navigable river, lake, or harbor, has a special advantage that may lead to marked growth.

The majority of communities, however, have no such exceptional advantages. They are more or less alike in such respects. The difference between them is that some are more progressive than others, ready to accept new ideas and profit by them, or are more hustling than others, willing to work harder for the advantages they desire.

Modern intelligence and the spirit of enterprise constitute the main forces that create town progress.

COLLEGE GIRL'S CAPACITY FOR LIVING

It will be difficult to convince many college women that higher education has robbed them of their "capacity for living"—as a certain film actress, herself a college graduate, insists.

This young woman, who evidently is an exception to her own rule, can see no worthwhile future for the thousands of girls who will garner their college diplomas next month. College life, she says, induces such weighty extra-curricular by-products as "too much introspection, self-analysis and standardization of normal feminine emotions." "Women," she says, "live on emotion, and when that is taken away from them by too much introspective thinking, they are not feminine any more."

What she is trying to say, apparently, gets back to the time-worn argument that co-eds reap cultural rewards at the sacrifice of some of their femininity. A glance at any college alumnae reunion ten years after graduation will serve quickly to dispel any fears on that score.

A bit of thinking, introspective or otherwise, will do little damage to anyone's emotional capacity. There is no evidence that the attribute of college life, or any other for that matter, has taken from the girl undergraduate a scintilla of her femininity.

A PROFESSOR'S PLAN

It is doubtful if the presidential campaign, now in its initial stages, will produce a more engaging piece of literature than that which presents the solution of our economic woes conceived in the mind of Professor Thomas Nixon Carver, of Harvard.

Professor Carver, whose intellectual standing is high and whose political status is that of a conservative, has devised what is probably the most radical of all means yet suggested to provide for the needs of our teeming millions.

He proposes that our doors be closed to immigration once for all, that birth control be practiced, that sterilization be employed to discourage "mere biological urge," and that marriage be restricted to those of adequate means, the test being ability to buy and maintain an automobile.

Professor Carver's argument is that there are too many people already in America for the good of them all, and that unless some means is found to limit reproduction in the future, there will be far too many for a majority of them to have a decent living.

After all, we suppose Professor Carver is really conservative according to his light. The plan seems a trifle drastic but the professor really did draw the line at plowing under a part of the population.

END OF THE TRAIL

With the entrance of Italian troops into Addis Ababa, the disorders that followed the emperor's flight have ceased to be formidable. The siege of the American Legation by natives would have been a tragedy had the minister and his staff been less courageous and the guards less faithful. As it was, there were four days of anxiety, ended at last by the evacuation and transfer of the Americans to the British compound, which was better fitted for resistance. But all foreigners in the Ethiopian capital must breathe easier now that the Italian armies are reaching the end of the trail.

It is no doubt true that the desertion of his own people was a factor in the emperor's hasty flight. But after his repeated assurances that he would fight to the last, his hasty flight to Djibouti and his departure, loaded with spoils, on a British warship must moderate the sympathy for him which has been generally felt. The invaders now appear in the role of deliverers from chaos, but Italian aggression is not morally justified by the event.

The ultimate results are still a matter of surmise. Great Britain took the lead in the imposition of sanctions, and her failure to make them work puts the government in an unenviable position, with political consequences both at home and abroad that can not yet be estimated. Any reform of the league will be rather belated. First Mussolini and then Hitler has defied the public law of Europe successfully. Nor can the members of the league be absolved from all responsibility. Their only chance of success lay in prompt and decisive action, and this was lacking.

Another world war may not have been brought nearer. But certainly dictatorship has suffered no reverse. The problem for European statesmanship to face has been made more difficult than ever.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The league will convene again shortly. That sporty golf course at Geneva is irresistable.

Mussolini Goes Through.
Practical Selassie.
Wolves Ate Seven.
Snake Killed One.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

MUSSOLINI'S men entered Addis Ababa, driving out the Ethiopian looters, bringing safety to various Europeans, including our own minister.

Rome went wild with joy; and no wonder.

In seven months Mussolini has conquered Ethiopia's millions, killing and wounding 250,000 of them, marching steadily ahead through dangerous valleys, high mountains, driving out the Ethiopian armies that were directed by skilled soldiers from Turkey, Scandinavia and elsewhere.

TO APPRECIATE what Mussolini has accomplished by will-power and the enthusiasm of revolution, it is well to member that it took us some 50 years to get rid of small groups of hostile Indians, and took the British empire forever and a day to conquer a few Boers in the Transvaal.

Mussolini, imitating another Roman "came, saw and conquered." Give him credit, whether you admire and sympathize with Ethiopia's slave-dealing "civilization" or not.

THOSE IMPRESSED by the high qualities of Ethiopia's Arab slave-trading ruler will note that in the great crisis, his presence of mind remained. The Associated Press says he took with him on the British boat "the imperial family jewels, many cases of gold bullion, and gold coins."

On his way from Addis Ababa to the British ship he stopped to take all the cash from the treasury and customs house at Diredawa.

THIS REMINDS you of his alleged ancestor, son of King Solomon and Sheba. His mother sent him back from Abyssinia to see King Solomon, according to the solemn belief of Ethiopians. The young man looked around, and when he left took everything worth while, including the sacred Ark of the Covenant, the one before which King David danced, to please the Lord.

Ethiopians believe that they have that ark now, if the Italians haven't taken it. Selassie's ancestor left in

DO YOU BELIEVE IT?

SAX ROHMER, who writes fantastic fiction stories, says this is the solemn truth. . . . He can do this thing, and perhaps you can do it, too. . . . He warns you against doing it, however, if you are over-sensitive and imaginative. Because if you're that kind of person, it might throw you off balance.

He says he can send his personality into YOUR presence in another place, in another room some distance away.

It takes time and concentration, but he can do it. . . . He sits quietly in a room, by himself, and imagines himself just as he is, every feature, every gesture, every scar, wrinkle and wart. Then he imagines this self of his rising from the chair where it is sitting, taking one step, two steps, three steps, putting on its hat and coat, turning the knob of the door, leaving the house, walking down the front stairs, walking down the street, taking every step of the way to your house, entering your front door, going down the hall, going into the room where you are at THAT moment.

And when he is in your presence, if he has precisely imagined every step of the way from him to you, YOU will be aware that HE is before you. . . . You will be startled, you may even be frightened, you may rush to the telephone to call up Sax Rohmer's house to inquire if anything terrible has happened to him.

You don't believe this? You can't believe that Sax Rohmer or anybody else can do this eerie thing? . . . He says he can and that he has PROVED his power and that it is not a special power of his own—that others have done it, too.

Do I believe he can do it? . . . Yes, I do. Why shouldn't I? Human beings have performed such miracles of body, mind and spirit, invented such amazing machines, broken so many material bonds—why shouldn't a man be able to project his presence from where he is to where you are?

But of what USE is this accomplishment? . . . That's another question, and I wouldn't even TRY to answer it.

REFRESHED

Hidden where seldom mortal goes,
Neglected, sad, a garden grows.
Flowers take the wildest trail,
And dropping, send their leaves a-sail.
Sunflowers proud are seen to lean,
Weeds send tendril fingers green
'Round tiny throats of plants that play..
The ferns have dried their friendly spray;
Vines crawl into holes of worms;
E'en weeds- of-milk have broken churns.
Buttercups climb through the fence,
Seeking chins, in sweet pretence,
Finding down-cast faces there,
Fading, laden down with care.

So at my feet in tangled mass
Lie hopes and dreams of sweeter past.
Sad beauty in the clinging moss
Hides stones, each shaped into a cross.
Petals of fallen roses grand
Lie brown and withered in my hand—
O God—I pray you faith to see
A hidden spring somewhere for me!
I'm thirsty for the drink divine
That sparkles clean, and pure and fine.
I seek it now—yes—here it's found—
How strange there's ruin all around!
No spot was e'er more heavenly fair.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR MISS MARKEL: I am a young man puzzled by the following questions: Who selects a man's dinner partner at a formal dinner? How are guests assigned to their places when cards are used? On what occasions are calling cards left by a man? Also how many should be left?—E. K.

Answer—If there is a butler in attendance (as their should be at every formal dinner) it is his duty to see that each man, before entering the drawing room, is given the name of the woman whom he is to take in to dinner. Her name may be written on a card and placed in a small envelope addressed to him.

At a large dinner the butler usually stands at the dining room door and directs the guests to their places. Each man holds his partner's chair, unless there is a servant present for this purpose. The butler then takes his place behind the hostess' chair and holds it for her, while she stands waiting for the guests to find their places.

Although the custom of leaving calling cards is dying out to a great extent, there are still some who adhere rigidly to the custom, which is as follows:

Cards should be left within a few days on the hostess at whose house you have dined for the first time. This should be done whether you have accepted the invitation or not. Moderns, however, instead of leaving cards, reciprocate with an invitation to dine. One should also leave a card or send flowers to friends who are ill or who have suffered a bereavement.

When a man pays a visit he leaves a card for each woman in the house and one for each man, the number, however, not exceeding three. For example: If there were two women and a man, you should leave three cards, and if there were four women and three men, you should still leave three.

The World At A Glance

British Are Bewildered.
Income Tax Proves Puzzle.
Gambling Is Also Problem.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEWS FROM ABROAD is interesting. Much of it never finds its way into American newspapers. Here is some:

Eight-and-a-half years ago a government committee was appointed in England to recommend means to simplify income tax.

The committee finally has made a report. It found its task nearly hopeless. Income tax laws never can be made so that people will understand them, the committee concludes.

It does, however, submit a new codifying bill, with 417 clauses and eight schedules. That is some progress, for the existing legislation consists of nearly 800 distinct provisions, embodied in 19 different acts of parliament, with 1,800 different methods of application.

The committee, nevertheless, sadly concludes that income tax legislation "must by its nature be abstract and technical, and never can be easy reading." But, the committee adds, "this is no excuse for perpetuating the law in its present confused and illogical shape."

FOOTBALL POOLS

The chief gambling in England is through football pools.

A member of parliament, Mr. Russell, introduced a bill against football pool betting, which he said amounted to $100,000 000 a year.

The bill was defeated, 287 to 24.

In moving for its rejection, Mr. Lennox-Boyd said the bill was an "unjustifiable interference with private liberty".

EXILES' PLIGHT

Germans who fled from the Nazis over the border into France are finding life unbearable there. Of the fifty to sixty thousand Germans who took refuge in France, merely twelve to fifteen thousand remain—and no more are permitted to enter.

Police are said to have picked up some of the refugees in the street dying of starvation. Others, more fortunate, earn a few pennies a day as peddlers.

The plight of the German refugee, wherever he goes, if he can go anywhere, is heartrending.

London is building a "green belt" around the city. Much of the "green belt" is unenclosed and is laid out for recreational purposes.

Sounds somewhat like the work of the U. S. Resettlement Administration.

MOBILE FIRE HEADQUARTERS

London claims to have the best fire department in the world.

Now it is adding a new unit—a general fire headquarters on wheels. An especially trained staff of officers will be conveyed to the scene of each large fire and become an intelligence center.

GERMAN SCHOOLBOYS

English high school boys are learning that German high school boys are little different from themselves. A party of German boys has been visiting in England, in return for a tour made to Germany by English boys last year.

Each group of boys has found the other jolly good fellows.

Educators now believe that if nations would interchange visits of high school students there would be a sound basis for international understanding.

IMMIGRANTS NEEDED

Australia still needs immigrants.

A suggestion has been made in England that every well-to-do parish pay the passage of a boy immigrant to Australia.

BRITAIN FEARS

The British Isles are in a precarious condition as to food in case of an emergency. Grain stocks in the United Kingdom are unusually low—merely ten weeks' supply. Yet British freighters are laid up, rusting for lack of business.

Britain still is buying from hand to mouth.

Suggestion has been made that the Canadian wheat board transfer a part of its supplies to England. But there is an obstacle—the charge for storing wheat in England is high. It is, therefore, suggested that the government bear the additional charge, as an insurance premium against national famine.

Of the large European countries, only the Soviet Union actually has sufficient food supplies to resist blockade. That is one reason the Allies, aiding the White Russians, could not overthrow the bolsheviks following the World war. Now the Allies buy grain from the Soviet Union and are eager for its friendship.

THE LAW

This is the law! There's no secret about it.
Learn it, my boy, it is truth that I say.
Though there are many, perhaps, who still doubt it,
The harder the task is, the greater the pay.

When you are puzzled and when you are weary,
When you are worn by the strain and the stress.
Remember this axiom Take heart and stay cheery!
If it were easy the pay would be less.

Life gives but little to seekers of pleasure.
This is the law men and nature obey;
This of all things, is the ultimate measure:
The harder the task is the greater the pay.

Supply and demand! It's the same the world over.
So gather of wisdom and strength all you can.
This is the truth which some day you'll discover:
The harder the duty, the scarcer the man.

May 7, 1774—Willian Bainbridge was born in Princeton, N. J., which he ran away from at 15 to become a sailor. Within four years he was commander of a sailing ship, and he was only 22 when he became a captain in the navy and began scoring more victories over the British than any other naval commander in history.

May 7, 1833—Birthdate of Johannes Brahms, one of the three greatest composers. He was set to playing the piano before he could reach the pedals, so he could help his father pick up a few thalers an evening playing dance tunes in Hamburg's red-light district, and when he was only 14 he began composing.

May 7, 1915—The British liner Lusitania was torpedoed and sunk off Kinsdale Head, Ireland, by the U-20, and 1,195 persons went down with her.

One Robert J. Timmis, came back, all the way from the bottom. The force with which the ship settled into its grave knocked him loose from the wreckage to which he was pinned and clear of the ship itself and he rose to the surface, to be rescued and to tell the tale for many a year afterwards in Gainesville, Tex., his home.

Surviving today are 10 of the 36 deck and engineer officers aboard the Lusitania that fatal day.

AAA Payments Become Issue

Huge Payments Which Aroused Curiosity Of Senate Must Be Answered

CONCENTRATION OF LAND SHOWN

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S street

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg's resolution, demanding information concerning big payments to agriculture for AAA plowings-under and other forms of non-production, turned out very well in the shape in which the senate finally adopted it.

However, it will take an immense amount of work for government agencies to answer the questions put by the lawmakers.

All the same, they ought to be answered.

A PARTISAN MOTIVE

Undoubtedly there was a partisan motive behind the Michigan senator's request for a list of all AAA payments above $10,000.

It manifestly will be irritating to a farmer, who received a little check of less than $100 for his non-planting, to learn that large-scale farming enterprises received up to $1,000,000 each for similar acquiescence in the AAA program. The consumer, too, is likely to be enraged at the thought of the fancy figures paid to huge companies to restrict production, making the prices that he has to pay correspondingly higher.

Obviously Vandenberg's purpose was to call attention to the fact that semi-famine prices inevitably are high, which is all right for the folk who are paid for creating the famine but hard on those who have to pay them.

It is a fact to which, indeed, attention should be called.

OVER-CONCENTRATION

What Vandenberg disregarded was the fact that a $50 AAA payment to the small farmer, as compared with a $1,000,000 payment to a huge farming corporation, implies an enormous over-concentration of land in a few hands.

Then we have:

1. A group which does not believe in artificial famine.
2. A group which does not believe in benefiting another group at the latter's expense.
3. A group which would like to find out what it is all about.

This is what occurred to Senator Homer T. Bone of Washington, in his amendment to the Vandenberg resolution, calling for an explanation of this over-concentration.

Then came Senator Tom Connally of Texas with his further amendment, inquiring as to the extent to which various urban industries have benefited $100,000 each or more from protective tariffs—subsidies, he calls them.

MONTHS OF RESEARCH

Senator Vandenberg's inquiry relatively is simple.

The agriculture department complains that it will require months of research to answer, but, with almost infinite toil, it is available, it is admitted.

Senator Connally's quiz horrifies the tariff commission. To satisfy it involves a matter of estimates. The thing can't be done exactly. Generations of records must be examined to arrive at a conclusion—and then it will be disputed.

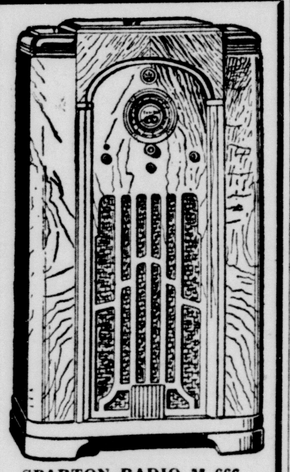

The entire issue of economics figures in Senator Bone's amendment.

The Washington senator's philosophy is that our taxation system's all wrong—land is, but should not be, a monopoly.

its place some boards wrapped up to look like it. That is a practical family.

INTERESTING Ethiopian "pictures in words" came through from Addis Ababa. They showed Ethiopian ladies, loaded with loot, rushing to hide it in the jungle, one group of Ethiopians, after looting shops and dwellings, "hi-jacked", in the best American prohibition manner, by others that arrived too late.

Ethiopian "chiefs" recently wearing samples of lion's mane on their heads, now creep through the jungle, trying to reach the coast before their "personal enemies," ill-treated slaves, miserable debtors with hands cut off, and others, have a chance to murder them.

ALL THE Haile Selassie royal family, himself, empress, crown prince and others, reached the British warship safely and are on their way to Palestine, to take up a residence in Jerusalem.

That probably will not be permanent. The emperor recently bought a house in London, and will probably join other kings, out of a job, that trot up and down Piccadilly and Bond Street.

EVERY GOOD Mohammedan, at least once in his lifetime would make the pilgrimage to Mecca. He wants to honor Allah, the all high god, and Allah's one and only prophet, Mohammed.

He wants to gaze upon the rock from which Mohammed on his white mare Alborak, rode up to heaven, to return with interesting stories of angels so big that their eyes were several days journey apart. He wants especially to see the marks of Alborak's hoofs on the rock, showing to his day what a wonderful "pick-up" was possessed by that remarkable steed.

RUSSIA discourages such pilgrimages, wishes Mohammedans to believe that their prophet Mohammed was an ignorant fanatic, unable to read or write, who never made the round trip to Heaven.

But recently, as a matter of policy, the Bolshevik government allowed a group of Mohammedan pilgrims to start on the sacred journey. On the way they were attacked by starving wolves, and seven were devoured.

The pious, although not believers in Mohammed, will grieve, knowing the cynical Bolshevism will tell the surviving pilgrims:

"Next time select a wolf for your prophet."

IN FLORIDA a well-known preacher, who thought it his duty to let rattlesnakes bite him to show the power of God, actually did let the snakes bite him without first removing their fangs. He is dead, the jury said, "by the bite of a rattlesnake through his own carelessness."

The poor fanatic succeeded only in proving the power of rattlesnake poison. The laws of the universe could hardly be suspended to justify the whim of one well-meaning fanatic.

Hit-Run Driver Is Being Hunted In Pittsburgh

Eight-year-Old Boy Brutally Killed By Auto, Body Of Boy Dragged Three Blocks

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 7.—A ruthless hit-run driver today became the grim object of a search in which every member of the Pittsburgh police force was under special orders to take part following the brutal slaughter of an 8-year-old boy.

The youngster, Irvine Zwick, was struck by the car, a garishly painted yellow affrair said to have been driven by a Negro, as the vehicle sped around a corner. According to spectators, the boy clung to the bumper for three blocks as the machine speeded up and finally tossed his torn body free as it skidded around a curve.

Witnesses to the cold-blooded "accident" said the driver stopped almost as soon as he hit Irvine, but re-started his car when horrified spectators started running towards him.

FEARED HE MIGHT NOT LIVE LONG

Foreman Sent Him Home From Work Because He Was Sick

"Last fall I got into such a condition that I feared I might not live long," said John Porter, a well known resident of Ambridge, Pa. "My work for years had been in the mills, and I had kept well in spite of the sudden changes of heat and cold and the exposure. But I noticed a gradual failing of my strength. This was followed by annoying troubles with my stomach. My kidneys and bladder, too, did not work as they should. I had to lay off frequently simply because I did not feel equal to a day's work. At times I had a dizziness that made me afraid I might fall over in the mill. I would stoop over and do a little work, and as I rose black spots would come before my eyes, and once in a while I had to grab the first thing I could reach to keep from falling.

"Sometimes after hard work I had to rest a while before I could go on, and at these times my heart thumped so that I became alarmed. My stomach got worse and frequently would not retain food. One day the foreman at the mill sent me home. He said I was too sick to work and, as we were all working under the compensation law, it was against the rules of the company to allow men to work in my condition. I knew this would soon mean the loss of my job, and that added to my worries. I lost weight, and my ankles used to swell up after a day's work, frequently with pains shooting up the side of my legs. I worked less than half of the time, and I saw ahead of me soon that I would not be able to work at all. I was so miserable that I did not particularly care, for I thought I could not last much longer.

"I was right about that. I could not have held on if one of my buddies had not urged me to try a new medicine he had used with good results. I started on it, and before I had taken two bottles I saw a big improvement. My stomach was straightened out, my pains stopped, and I began to sleep restfully. I kept right on with the medicine, and now I feel as well as I ever did and am working every day. That is what World's Tonic did for me. I could, as I have learned since, give you the names of half a dozen or more of my buddies in the mills who have been wonderfully helped by this remarkable new medicine." World's Tonic is sold by Eckerd's; Paisley's, and all other first class drug stores. (A-56) applauded as Hugh M. Rocks, James L. Agan, E. F. Connelly, John Newman and William Marso acknowledged the grand knight's introductions.

They also arose and applauded for Steve Boyle, the council's only honorary life member, who, forgetting his health carcs, came to the banquet program to join in the celebration. Mr. Boyle, who is nearing 85, was also at the speakers' table.

The introduction of prominent Knights of Columbus officers here as guests, continued and when John B. McDonough, Reading, Pa., the former state deputy of the knights, was introduced, the principal address of the evening was started.

Mr. McDonough, in a challenging message that called for Catholic action to be articulate for a greater devotion to the church, to the nation to home communities and to the Knights of Columbus, traced what he chose to call "footprints in history" and what in reality were the steps that saw Italy, Germany and Russia transformed from free lands into countries ruled by dictators.

Recent church oppression in Mexico against which the Knights of Columbus has loudly and vigorously protested, was heatedly denounced.

The address of the former state deputy was the final one of the evening.

At the close the audience enjoyed a snappy program of blackface merry-making which talented men of the Keystone Entertainers provided.

Speakers Among Special Guests

Other guests who spoke briefly during the evening's program were Edward Lee Bladel, Pittsburgh, state lecturer; Laurence O'Toole, past president of the Pittsburgh chapter, and State Warden Edward A. McCann, Pittsburgh. District Deputy Paul Smith, Butler, unable to attend, wired his regrets.

A feature of the evening, the presentation of a handsome trophy to James Steiner, captain of the council's championship pocket billiard league team of the past season, by Grand Knight Flanagan. And just for the fun of it, Grand Knight Flanagan called upon Mr. O'Toole, the former Pittsburgh chapter head, to present to John Thomas another more or less "distinctive" trophy because Thomas' team was the runner-up for the championship.

Chairman Joseph L. Rocks, who handled arrangements for the evening's party with the aid of capable committees, was praised for his work during the program.

The St. Mary's council had Ralph Read as its first grand knight 36 years ago. Read, a druggist while here, now lives in Johnstown.

Attending last night were many members of the council living in West Pittsburg, Bessemer, Ellwood City and other county points.

Extend Date For CCC Enrollments

Young Men In Lawrence County Can Enroll Until May 15, Is Announcement

One hundred eleven young men of Lawrence county left for C.C.C. camps during the month of April, according to a statement by James E. Moorhead, relief director, today. All of them are now at work in the forests of Pennsylvania and are enjoying the advantages of an outdoor life.

The term term for accepting both white and colored young men for the summer work in the C.C.C. camps has been extended to May 15, Mr. Moorhead stated, and this will probably be the last call for the camps.

Young men who are interested in going to a C.C.C. camp for the summer months are invited to enroll in the relief office on South Mill street. The work in the camps is not arduous, the outdoor life is healthful and in reality it is a summer vacation on pay.

Spading Gardens At Disposal Plant

Frank Nugent, superintendent of the disposal plant, stated today that the spading of gardens already has started.

Last spring 64 gardens were put in at the disposal plant and 70 in West Madison avenue.

Crops were excellent.

Correct this sentence: "I wish to make an impressive speech", said the statesman, "but I shall not use the word 'psychology,."

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

STUDIES TROUBLE BOY

"My Dear Dr. Myers: I am the mother of a son, seven years old, who is attending the third grade in elementary school....He reads very well but says 'a' for 'the', 'his' for 'her', 'this' for 'that', adds a word not there or leaves out a word. When you stop him and tell him to read it again he will re-read it correctly

"With arithmetic the same. He can add a column of figures without any difficulty, but again his carelessness comes in. For example, he will say 11 and put down 12; he will say 9 minus 3 and add them together; he will leave out equal signs, etc.

"His teacher admits he is a bright child, that he knows his work, but when examined his carelessness creeps in and of course she can't mark him for what she thinks he has meant but what the paper shows. . . .

I have tried to reason with him, showing him how bad such a habit will be in later life. I have reduced his speed in doing the work with the hope that slow work will bring about greater concentration, but to no good. I have resorted to punish him and scold him at each careless act, but I have failed in that too. He realizes and many times remarks that he feels bad when the teacher hands back to him a corrected paper with careless answers when he knows the correct answers.

"I shall appreciate it immensely if you will suggest some way and means of ridding him of this sickness. It hurts me a great deal to know that if not for his carelessness he is capable of going through school with high marks and honors."

My answer was about like this: First of all, work on yourself to be more calm about the matter, especially in the child's presence. Quit calling him careless; quit even thinking of him as careless; but rather as a sick child, emotionally sick. Please quit lecturing to him about his trouble; he always is distressed about it. Please be not so cruel as to scold or punish him for his learning errors; they torment him themselves. The moment you feel yourself annoyed at his mistakes, walk away. Don't command him to slow up; rather set the stage and create the atmosphere in which he will feel calm, and will choose to go carefully and slowly. Then celebrate his small successes. No doubt there is a hurry atmosphere in the classroom.

He is a word reader. Read aloud to him a great deal to arouse his interest in content. Encourage him to read from very easy, pictured materials of interest to him. In arithmetic, help him calmly to memorize each day a few number facts, as 6 and 7 are 13, as automatically as spelling cat. His vision and hearing should be checked at once by a specialist.

On Court House Hill

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has received an invitation to attend the state sheriff's convention to be held at Erie on July 13, 14 and 15.

County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland announces that city of New Castle school taxes delinquent for 1935 have been filed and are now payable at his office.

A radio for picking up broadcasts of the city police department has been installed in the sheriff's office. It will enable the sheriff and his deputies to get on the job quickly when needed.

The county poor department is now practically out of cash and unable to pay bills when presented. The county is faced with necessity for borrowing more money or waiting until 1936 taxes come in. The latter plan will be followed for a time, at least, as it is believed that payments will come in better once all the tax cards have been sent out for the city.

The squirrel population on the court house grounds has been increased by a family of two. They were born in a box, high up on a tree at the front of the court house. Mother and father seem proud of their offspring and the court house attaches are delighted.

Registration Clerk, Thomas Edmunds, announces that any unregistered voters have until October 3 to register. Young women who have married must change their registrations to their married names, which will obviate the necessity of their furnishing proof to election boards that they have changed their names.

Arguments were heard at court yesterday in the case of Louis Goldberg, executor, against Louis Wine, in which an application for a new trial was made. The trouble was over $2000 which Goldberg claimed Wine owed the estate. Wine claimed the money had been a gift to his wife. Verdict in the case was for the defendant.

C. A. Glenn of Plaingrove township, was at the sheriff's office yesterday, settling up for the Jennie B. Keener farm which he purchased at sheriff sale on Monday. The farm, which contains 121 acres, joins the Glenn homestead.

A farmer who was at the county treasurer's office paying his taxes yesterday complained that the farmers in his district who are in need of help this spring find it hard to get. Those who have been out of jobs are now employed on WPA projects, and won't leave them to do farm work, since they claim they can make more and don't have to work so hard on the WPA.

Arguments were heard at court yesterday in the divorce case of George H. Grim against Margaret Grim. This was a case which was contested when it came up before the court for hearing, and the attorneys were given a chance to present their arguments for and against the granting of a decree. The court will hand down a decision later.

Subpoenas in divorce were served this week in the case of Christine Ferrieri against Frank Ferrieri, and Barbara Yesenski against Andy Yesenski. The former application was made on the grounds of desertion and the latter for alleged cruelty.

County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland reports that a pear tree which is in full bloom at his home on Boyles avenue, has borne fruit continuously for many years, the crop being usually from 15 to 18 bushels. The tree was planted in 1873 by an uncle of Attorney William J. Moffatt.

ARE COLLEGE MEN SOFTIES?

PHILADELPHIA, May 6.—"Pennsylvania men must bow their heads in shame if the intramurals neglect baseball to play soft ball, volley ball and even (honest injun ping pong," declared the Pennsylvanian, student daily newspaper, in an editorial here.

This criticism of the proposed campus athletic program neglecting baseball was voiced in an editorial entitled "Are Pennsylvania Men Softies?"

"Shall these things be?" clamored the student editors. "Shall our fraternity men bat about the delicate little white ping pong ball and neglect that symbol of vigorous manhood, the horsehide baseball?"

My New York By James Aswell

NEW YORK, May 7.—Manhattan Medley: Katherine Cornell's cocker spaniel, Flush, who distinguished himself in the play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," celebrated his sixth birthday with a party at the actress' Beekman Place home ... Geta Garbo's new hospitality to the press has the boys gasping; incidentally her tawny-reddish hair is curled, as in those early pictures she made abroad ... And more people tried to horn in on the publicity fireworks attendant to Miss Garbo's arrival than usually make statements in connection with a famous murder trial ... According to Fifi Dorsay, Greta's intimates hail her as "Gee-Gee."

Now the pretty ladies on the uppity dance floors are wearing long scarfs, which are dandy for step-on purposes ... Fred Stone is willing to admit that Hollywood has charmed him utterly; he's going to put his Forest Hills mansion on the market and move his residence permanently to flicker land ... Instead of closing, the "Follies" will slice a dollar from orchestra prices and brave the dog days. ... Newest game to give drawing-rooms the sillies: names of well known characters, living and dead, are placarded on the backs of players and they must guess who they are. They can ask questions capable of being answered yes or no ... First one to uncover his identity gets the prize, the last one pays a forfeit.

The best book about a city I've read was Christopher Morley's "Travels in Philadelphia," published some years back. ... He ought to do the same for Manhattan. ... Russell Patterson is packing a group of his best-known puppet displays to ship to London, where they will decorate the foyer of a night club. ... Patterson believes no young illustrator can hope to grow rich from his art in the future; the field is too crowded and the artist today must be versatile enough to work in half a dozen media.

Besides racehorses, Bing Crosby has a weakness for jack-knives. ... One, in his collection, has 200 blades. ... When Jimmy Durante goes to England for a vaudeville tour he will draw about $5,000 weekly. ... What the British income-tax collectors won't do to that stipend! ... The best show—and a free one—roundabout in months was the lifting of the central span of the Tri-Boro bridge into place, a piece of steel weighing 4,000,000 pounds ... Only a few loiterers paused on either shore of the East River to watch the drama. ...

Among the articles to be auctioned off by the Police Department in their unclaimed goods sale is a 90-ton schooner ... Husbands with auction-conscious wives are nervous. Romantic job No. 51-A: that of the man who's hired to go through one of the big movie office suites here, untwisting telephone cords. ... There are still a few hundred monkey problem answers for those who send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"I COULD kick myself when I think of the money I used to shell out for an undershirt. . . . Paying fancy prices, because I thought they wouldn't be comfortable—thought they wouldn't wear—unless I threw the old bank-roll for a terrific loss.

"But like a lot of others, I lost my shirt . . . got taken to the cleaner's in the late depression. And that's how I found HANES. I had to cut down expenses, so I started buying HANES for thirty-five and fifty cents apiece. And I want to tell you, I don't care how much you're worth—you never had a sweller shirt on your back! They're light. They're cool. And HANES knits them with plenty of snap so they hug right up to your skin as comfortable as you'd want. And here's something else: Look how long a HANES Shirt is. You can tuck it way down in your shorts so it won't creep up and bulge at your waist. Sure . . . I lost my shirt. But I've got some sense in my head and some cents in my pocket today!" . . . Group Subscription To Jameson Prepaid Hospital Plan Service

The purpose of group subscription to Jameson Prepaid Hospital Service is to provide a convenient and efficient means whereby membership dues may be paid in monthly installments. The group contracts are three in number:

1. Group employes. (A contract for employes of a business or industrial organization).
2. Voluntary group. (A contract for family heads, employed persons and single adults who desire to join together because of social, church, neighborhood or other connection).
3. Family dependent group. (A contract for members under the above employe or voluntary groups who desire to provide hospitalization services for their family dependents).

Why Jameson Provides Group Subscription Contracts

Jameson Memorial is a hospital. It is not a collection agency or an installment sales merchandising organization. Jameson's business is that of providing hospital bed care for the sick and injured. However, many of our people can purchase their hospitalization needs by small monthly payments more conveniently than by cash prepayment and group subscription offers a means to collect such installments without involving the hospital in the collection business. Under none of its Hospital Service Contracts does Jameson Memorial Hospital assume any responsibility whatever for payment and collection of membership dues. This responsibility is entirely one for the members themselves.

Who May Form A Group

Any group of eight or more family heads, employed persons and single or widowed adults may join together and form a subscription group. They may form their group because of business connection or work association, because of church association, for reason of association in a social club or card club or because they are neighbors or for any reason of convenience that brings them together frequently. A good way to remember who is eligible to enter a group is to remember that only family dependents—wife and minor children living at home and not gainfully employed—are not eligible for membership in a group. Family dependents are provided for by a separate contract which will be discussed below

How To Organize The Group And Secure The Contract

Having determined who shall be in the group the members get together and select a name and choose one of their number as their representative and treasurer to deal with Jameson hospital and collect the monthly installments.

Duties Of Group Representative

The chosen representative secures from Jameson hospital four group contracts and two family dependent group contracts, together with information blanks for service records and a pad of record sheets for keeping account of payments. "Group Kits" with instructions are available at the hospital main office for all who desire them.

Those who desire private ward service at $6 per year sign the membership roll of one pair of duplicate contracts providing that service and fill out a service record information sheet. Those who desire private room service at $9 per year sign the membership roll of the second pair of duplicat contracts and also fill out a service record information blank. The representative signs the roll of duplicate contracts and fills out his own service record information blank just like any other member of the group. Each member pays his installment dues to the representative who is provided with a convenient record form to keep account of such payments and transmit them to the Jameson Hospital Service Fund.

Those family heads who desire to provide hospitalization service for their family dependents then sign the roll of the duplicate family dependent hospital service group contract and fill out a service record information blank for each dependent (wife and all minor children living at home and not gainfully employed). Each member who signs the family dependent group contract pays his group representative 90 cents per month in advance and these payments are recorded on the same record sheet with all other payments made by the group.

The representative then takes the signed contracts and service record blanks and listed payments to the hospital where payment will be receipted for the contracts executed and put into operation.

All members and their dependents may then present themselves at the hospital and receive their official identification cards. Thereafter, monthly in advance, the representative transmits monthly installment payments with his record sheet therefore.

In event of failure or refusal of a member to pay his installment when due the representative cancels the name of such non-paying member from the roll, but such cancellation in no manner disturbs the good standing of remaining paid enrolled members. If the group and the group representative wish to enroll additional new members they may do so at any time.

Thus the payment of installments and their transmittal to the Jameson Hospital Service Fund is a matter handled entirely by the group representative and the group members. Jameson Memorial hospital has no control over or responsibility for collection and payment of installments of groups and group members and is in no manner obligated to render service under any hospitalization service contract unless and until the membership dues of each group member, respectively, are paid in advance as provided by the contract.

There has been a little confusion about the group plan of subscription and the service provided thereunder. The service under a group contract is precisely the same as that provided under an individual contract. The only difference is the manner of payment. Some have entertained the fear that if the misfortunes of members of one group should exhaust the hospitalization fund contributed by that group then service would cease. Such is not the case, of course. There is one Jameson Hospital Service Fund to protect all members of Jameson Prepaid Hospital Care. Misfortunes of one group may be excessive while those of other groups will be nominal. Every dollar paid by any member into the Jameson Hospital Service Fund goes to provide hospitalization as needed for all members of Jameson Prepaid Hospital Care. The distribution of misfortune of sickness and injury may be cruel and uneven and may hit some members or groups of members most unfairly. That is to be expected. The hospitalization fund, however, will withstand these shocks and level the cost of hospital bed care needs of the individual to the average for the many. That's its purpose. The small payments of the many pay for the heavy expense of the unfortunate few.

Some have observed that there is nothing to prevent a member from receiving service and then discontinuing membership. That is true and no doubt a few may take advantage of this opportunity to get hospital service for a couple of dollars instead of $6 or $9 per year. However, Jameson hospital is in business to stay and such few persons as might prefer a couple of dollars to fulfillment of their contractual obligations shall, of course, find their names enrolled on the hospital's black-list for future participation. Jameson has confidence to know that a cigarette paper will provide ample space for this black-list.

Others have observed that Jameson's contracts stipulate no age limit and a few have already manifested great interest in providing for their fragile grandparents. They may do so. However, they must read the contracts—any of Jameson's five contracts. In all contracts it is clearly stated that the service does not apply to rest cures, semi-invalidism and chronic incurable disorders, but is confined to treatment of patients receiving active progressive treatment and needing hospital bed care. The use of the hospital service as a convenience in care of the aged and infirm suffering the incurable infirmities of old age is thus clearly ruled out.

Jameson contracts are clear, concise statements of understanding. Jameson Memorial hospital is fully prepared to meet all its obligations thereunder.

United States Learns Lesson

Ethiopian Conquest By Italy Has Taught United States Stern Lesson

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Th chief lesson which he United States should learn from Italy's conquest of Ethiopia and the manner in which it was achieved, is the vital need for an adequate national defense force.

Such was the view today of the American military observers who have been following the Italian campaign of conquest from the beginning and Ethiopia's feeble though courageous effort to resist it.

Easily Conquered

As evidence that this view was not "big army" propaganda but glaring fact, the military observers pointed to the comparative ease which Italy's modern military machine was able to roll over what had been considered one of the most inaccessible nations in the world.

The Italian victory was further seen as evidence that courage and numbers alone is not sufficient to defend a nation from invaders equipped with modern weapons of warfare. The black warriors of Ethiopia are known as the most courageous fighters in the world, but their courage proved naught against the airplanes, poison gas, bombs, and machine gun bullets of an inferior number of modern invaders.

Fat Girls Get The Go-By—Slim Girls Win Men

Lose Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

Here's a way to get rid of ugly fat that works hand in hand with Nature. Millions of people are losing millions of pounds of flabby flesh and getting back slender figures, without the need of starvation diets or back-breaking exercises.

Medical science has discovered that one of the causes of too much fat lies in a little gland. It is the duty of this tiny gland to make about one drop and a half every day of a vital fluid. This helps the body "burn" up food and excess fatty tissues just as a good draft of air helps the furnace to burn up coal without forming "clinkers". If this little gland doesn't make this drop and a half of fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat.

Doctors correct this condition by feeding this little gland the substance it lacks—and Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on this same method. Millions are using them with success. They are prepared by a world-famous medical laboratory. Their formula is published in every package so you know what you are taking.

So don't waste time and money with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Go to your druggist today and get a box of Marmola. Try this simple, easy way to get rid of excess fat.

PLAN ARMORY CORNERSTONE LAYING PROGRAM

May Take Place Memorial Day

Maj. Gen. Shannon Will Be Sought For Ceremonies Of Occasion

OTHER STATE GUESTS WILL BE INVITED

With the excavating finished and the trenches ready for the laying of footers for the new Troop F armory in Cascade park, preliminary plans are being discussed for the cornerstone laying ceremony.

At the present time the plans are in the formative stage. It has been suggested that a suitable day for the ceremony would be the afternoon of Memorial Day, Saturday, May 30. The morning will be given over to the annual services by the ex-service organizations. The afternoon seems to be an ideal time for the armory ceremony and this date may be settled upon.

Want General Shannon

Every effort possible will be made to have Major General Edward C. Shannon, commander of the Pennsylvania National Guard, here to lay the cornerstone and make the address of the day. As yet it is not known whether he will be available for the day.

Other guests from Harrisburg who will be invited are Adjutant General Kerr, Deputy Adjutant General Janeway, Brigadier General Edward Stockpole, and one or two others. The commander of the 103rd cavalry will also be invited.

The cornerstone laying ceremony will be in charge of the Civilian Sponsor committee and a meeting will be held within the next few days to lay out a plan for the ceremony.

It is the intention to make the event one to attract the attention of the city. The city has wanted an armory for many years and now that it is in the process of construction, the laying of the cornerstone should be one of general interest.

The stone cutters are getting the stone out of the Hog Hollow quarries at the present time and it is hoped that more stone men may be put on to expedite the work.

Prohibitionists Agree On Plank

Unanimous Agreement That Country Must Return To Absolute Prohibition

(International News Service)

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., May 7.—Opposing factions of the Prohibition party's national convention in session here were solidly united in at least one plank in its 1936 platform—the return of absolute prohibition.

Opposition to the first plank was those dealing with social security and old age relief, promised to bring forth factional dissension.

"Bone Dry" Plank

Warning that "no more constitutional amendments are to be betrayed by politicians in power," William D. Martin, chairman of the platform committee, declared that the bone dry plank would be paramount in the platform.

Other tentative plans include:

1.—Social security legislation patterned after that of Father Coughlin.

2.—Reform in judicial procedure separating courts from politics.

3.—Improved anti-crime laws.

4.—Greater parity between farm and agricultural prices throughout congressional appropriations.

5.—Direct issuance of currency by federal government.

6.—Better international setup to insure world peace.

Other proposed planks, especially expected to develop from western delegates favoring the Townsend plan.

Episcopal Women's Convention Closes

Address Made At Trinity Church Wednesday Afternoon By Rev. L. W. S. Stryker, Youngstown

A splendid inspirational address on "Fear, Faith and Vision" by the Rev. Leonard W. S. Stryker, rector of St. John's church, Youngstown, O., brought the 25th annual meeting of the Woman's auxiliary to the National Council of the Episcopal church, Diocese of Erie, to a close Wednesday afternoon at Trinity church.

Most of the day had been devoted to business matters, with the president, Mrs. Albert Broadhurst, of Titusville, in charge. Mrs. A. N. Warner, of Titusville, gave the opening report, that of the devotional secretary, and the host rector, Rev. Philip C. Pearson, gave the greetings to the delegates.

There were about 117 women at the convention and a number of visiting clergymen, including the Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, D. D., Bishop of Erie, the Rev. Harrison W. Foreman, Archdeacon of Erie, the Rev. Albert Broadhurst, rector of St. James' church, Titusville, the Rev. Frederic B. Atkinson, rector of St. John's church, Sharon, the Rev. Sisto J. Noce, rector of St. Paul's church, Farrell, the Rev. E. Pinkney Wroth, rector of Trinity Memorial church, Warren, and the Rev. Leonard W. S. Stryker, Youngstown, O.

Reports were presented by diocesan officers and special committees, the president, Mrs. Broadhurst, gave her annual address, and a message was brought by Archdeacon Foreman. Luncheon was served in the church dining room. Three offices which had become vacant were filled at the afternoon session.

It was reported to the body that there is over $600 in the treasury and that $430 is appropriated to the various activities of the Episcopal church in the Diocese of Erie.

All reports showed that excellent progress had been made during the past year. No place was decided upon for the next meeting.

Excellent hospitality was provided by the local committees in charge and delegates from out-of-town voiced their enthusiastic appreciation.

AROUND CITY HALL

Probabilities are that when council meets Friday in city hall the solons will discuss the proposed ordinance which provides for two solicitors—a chief and assistant—at a combined salary of $3,200. Under the provisions of the Mayor Charles E. McGrath measure, the chief would receive $2,000 and the assistant solicitor $1,200, annually. At the present time Solicitor Robert White receives $3,000 annually. Last year the office had an inspector. However, since the death of Henry Dysart, the position has been vacant and the work Dysart performed has been done by others. During the council meeting Monday it developed that Councilman B. F. Butler and Joseph D. Alexander were not much in favor of changing the set-up. No indication was given by Mayor Charles E. McGrath at that meeting to whom the jobs would be tendered. His only comment regarding that point was that the vote to report the measure from committee was on the making of the two positions. Mayor McGrath also expressed the opinion that two solicitors would come in "handy" and pointed out that previously the appropriation was $4,500 for the salary of White and Mr. Dysart. However, since the latter's death, no successor has been named. It may be the mayor's purpose to have the assistant solicitor serve papers if the bill is passed.

It is not known exactly when other reappointments or new appointments will be made in city hall. However, action is expected soon. . . . Council will discuss proposed completion of the Martin street sewer and improvement of Butler avenue extension Friday it is believed. . . . Chief of Police Ralph Criswell refused permits to salesmen from out of town to sell neckties here yesterday without payment of the proper fee. He believes local merchants are entitled to protection. . . . City may award a bid Friday of $100,000 worth of bonds with which that much in improvement certificates will be redeemed.

Ballot Box Brought In For Recount

Election Board In Third District Of Seventh Ward Had No Tally Sheet

Return judges counting the vote cast at the recent primary election had to send out for the ballot box in third district of seventh ward, as there was no tally sheet in the election returns. Neither was there any in the ballot box, so that all the ballots had to be recounted. The count did not show anything different from the vote which had been returned, so that the inference is that the election board simply kept tally on scratch paper, instead of on the regular tally sheet provided for that purpose.

The recounting of the ballots took considerable time that might have been saved had the election board followed the printed instructions.

'Uncle Sammy' Here For Show Saturday

Sammy Fuller was earning a living as a refrigerator salesman two years ago, and hadn't even been in a radio studio. Today he has two daily programs of his own, and is one of the staff announcers at KDKA. He comes Saturday, May 9, for the Junior Chamber of Commerce show at the Cathedral.

In March, 1932, the air team of Jean and Her Dad, then on KDKA, needed a pianist for their daily programs. Jean's Dad was visiting the Fuller family one night and heard Sammy running over some popular numbers on the piano. After a little persuasion, Sammy consented to play for the team, and a short time later he was put on the air as pianist with Duke and Gene, a singing duo.

In February, 1933, Fuller was placed in charge of the Kiddies Klub—an organization numbering more than 170,000 members from many countries.

Fuller was graduated with a degree from the School of Business Administration, Lehigh University, in 1931. He is 27 years old.

DO WOMEN SUFFER MORE THAN MEN?

Physicians tell us the nervous system of women is more sensitive than that of man. And her nerves are more susceptible to the influences that produce "nerve tension" (strain) which is only another name for "pain".

That is why women especially benefit from Capudine, a pleasant-tasting, quick-acting liquid compound which relieves high nervous tension and pain by soothing the nerves. For nervous headache, neuralgic, and periodic pains Capudine is ideal. If Capudine does not relieve, you may be sure there is some organic condition which should receive the attention of your oculist, dentist or family physician. Man's Stomach Felt Raw From Taking Baking Soda

A New Castle man tells that he took so much baking soda for indigestion and gas bloating that his stomach felt almost RAW from it. He had been a victim of stomach distress 25 years. Now, this same man is among hundreds in this vicinity who praise the double-acting stomach alkalizer, called WHITE SWALLOW—the new, scientific formula of FOUR (4) different remedies for stomach distress. He says this medicine gave him the only REAL relief since he first suffered in 1911. Now he can eat ANYTHING no heartburn, bloating, cramps or headaches after meals.

Acts At Once

WHITE SWALLOW neutralizes acids in the stomach, expels gas, relieves pain, bloat, swelling and headaches. Relief comes immediately. Not habit-forming like soda; pleasant to take and it settles the stomach at once.

Costs So Little

Best of all, WHITE SWALLOW costs less than 1c a dose. So it would be unfair to yourself to suffer. We want the public to know about this new, scientific remedy because it has helped just about everyone who has taken it.

DRASTIC CUT IN W.P.A. EMPLOYES

to spend money it did not have and for some reason Washington has not continued the allocation which was set up a year ago."

Not All Spent

"On July 1, 1935 an allocation of $9,587,006 was made to district 14 which was to last until July 1, 1936. Of this amount $9,151,500 was for wages and $435,506 was for materials. In Lawrence County the amount allocated was $2,680,860 for wages and $119,834 for materials."

"On April 15 the district had spent $5,404,869.77. Of this amount Lawrence County had spent $1,544,035 for wages and $128,841.95 for materials. Since April 15 we have been averaging $818,000 per month in the district. The cost of administration up to April 15 was 3½ per cent of the total or $152,988. For non-relief jobs we had spent $361,341 and for relief jobs $4,456,561. The total labor cost, including administration, non-relief and relief was $4,970,890."

"Since that time we have reduced the administrative cost for the four counties down to 2.2 per cent or approximately $18,000 per month. Non-relief jobs have been averaging 7.3 per cent of the total and 90.5 per cent of the total has been for relief jobs."

Money Held Up

"The money is being held up in Washington" said Mr. Downie "and not in Harrisburg. I do not understand the reason for we had assumed that when the allocations were made that the money was available and would be distributed as needed. In this district I have promised that every project started would be completed and I hope to go through with that promise. This applies to local projects of course, the highway projects being more or less of a continuous program."

"We are hoping that the reduction is merely a temporary thing and that the money will be restored to go ahead with the projects as we had them laid out. The reduction has not applied to any local projects. By local projects I mean such things as wiring of school buildings, the armory, repairing streets and the like."

"I am confident that this condition will not last long. Certainly there will be a release of funds so that the men may be put back to work."

Erie Railroad Men Here On Inspection

Hem-ROID has given quick, safe and lasting relief to thousands of Pile sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. Pearson Twists Detroit Tigers Into Knots 14-3

Former Indian Hurler Allows Champions But Three Hits

PIRATES FOLD UP TO GIANTS

By LAWSON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 7.—The thrill-packed exploits of the New York Yankee "murderers' row" of the Ruth era are still the standard of excellence in the matter of annihilating the opposition, but even they had their limitations.

Today the Yankees present a ball-powdering brigade that includes the pitcher, when Monte Pearson, the ex-Indian, is doing the pitching.

Rowe Lambasted

The Yankees routed Schoolboy Rowe with a six-run attack in the first inning yesterday and went on to a 14 to 3 victory over Detroit, with Pearson murdering the Tigers going and coming.

He drove in four runs with a homer and a double to qualify for "murderers' row," and in the meantime pitched three-hit ball against the world champions.

After sending Rowe to the showers, the Yankees got five more runs off Lawson in the fifth and three in the sixth.

Get 14 Hits

Every Yankee made at least one of the 14 hits and scored one or more of the 14 runs.

The Tigers' hitting for the day was confined to two singles by Al Simmons, who drove in all three runs, and a single by Gehringer.

In spite of all that, the Yanks did not gain anything in the fight for league leadership with the Boston Red Sox, who remained a half game in front by beating the St. Louis Browns, 7 to 4. Marcum pitched the win, his first of the season.

Indians Crack Homers

Gleeson, Trosky and Vosmik smacked homers as part of Cleveland's 11-hit attack against the Athletics, who lost by 7 to 1. Johnny Allen, the ex-Yank pitched the victory.

Ted Lyons pitched another victory for the Chicago White Sox, beating Washington, 5 to 1. The Sox made 12 hits off Linke, Bokina and Weaver.

The Chicago Cubs remained in front in the National league by a half game over the Cardinals, both leaders winning. The Cubs made 13 hits and beat the Boston Bees, 8 to 6. Demaree hit a homer for the winners, but Baxter Jordan led hitters for both teams with a homer, a double and two singles.

"Dizzy" Dean Wins

Dizzy Dean pitched the Cards to their victory over the Phils, who lost on two errors that let in the tying and winning scores in a 3 to 2 battle.

George Earnshaw, after previous faulty starts, pitched a six-hit game for the Brooklyn Dodgers and they won from the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 2.

The Pittsburgh Pirates came from behind to tie the New York Giants in the ninth, but lost the game in the 10th, 6 to 5.

Local Sportsmen At Pymatuning Meeting

To Wage Determined Fight For Use Of Motorboats On Dam

GREENVILLE, Pa., May 7.—The committee on motorboats told the newly-formed Pymatuning Development Association the Pymatuning dam is a "navigable" body of water.

More than 200 persons attended a meeting which resulted in permanent organization of the association.

The committee's report was read by Theodore Richardson of Andover, O., in the absence of the committee chairman, Melvin Blair.

The state's recent confiscation of a privately-owned motorboat operated on the dam gave rise to the meeting and the committee report.

Archie C. Voorhies outlined steps necessary to carry the case into the courts for a test hearing.

Committees were appointed from Andover, Linesville, Jamestown, Greenville, Sharon, Farrell, New Castle and Kinsman, O.

Spokesmen for the new organization expressed their determination to seek the right to operate motorboats on the federal government sponsored dam. The Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association was the first group to give the proposal outright endorsement. Other groups followed suit.

The association's strategy committee presented a lengthy report in which it said:

"It is not clear to this committee why Pymatuning Lake must be chosen as the one place where motorboats are to be barred."

The report pointed out that the same stand had not been taken by the Water and Power Resources Board in other Pennsylvania bodies of water.

The boat confiscated belonged to Richardson.

McLarnin Ready For Canzoneri

Vancouver Fighter Will Meet World's Lightweight Champion Friday Night

NEW YORK, May 7.—Jimmy McLarnin, the 29-year-old baby-faced Irishman from Vancouver, B. C., packed away his training equipment today and settled down for an undisturbed rest until tomorrow night when he will meet Tony Canzoneri, world lightweight champion, in Madison Square Garden.

"I'm in as good shape as I ever was," the little veteran of more than a decade in the ring said. He expects to weigh 145 pounds and hold an advantage of eight or ten pounds over Canzoneri, whose title is not at stake.

Canzoneri All Set.

In nearby Marlborough, Canzoneri tapered off today with calisthenics on his farm.

McLarnin has been established as a 6 or 7 to 5 favorite because of his weight advantage, but even money by the time the fight starts is predicted.

Canzoneri backers are depending on the 30-year-old champion to outpunch McLarnin, who has been idle since losing the welter title back to Barney Ross nearly a year ago. Canzoneri, meanwhile, has boxed nearly monthly.

Entry List For National Open Is Quite Large

Exactly 1,278 Entries Have Been Made For Qualifying Events

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 7.—When the national open golf championship was held at the Baltusrol club, Short Hills, N. J., in 1915 only 130 of the nation's club-swingers were sufficiently interested to enter.

From June 4 to 6 of this year the cream of a record-shattering crop of 1,278 entries will travel the fairways there, the United States Golf association revealed today.

The starting field of the championship proper will total 170 golfers to be made up of 33 exemptions from qualifying rounds and the low scorers in 36-hole qualifying play in 28 districts over the nation next Monday.

The previous high total for entries was 1,177 in 1930, with only 1,125 eligible in 1935, in contrast to this year's top-heavy field, because of which the championship starters have been increased from 160 to 170.

From Oregon to Florida, the golfers will line up next week to get those 36-hole rounds in, with the low scorers in each district earning a place in the Baltusrol field.

Relics Of Old Civil War Fort Dug Up By CCC

(International News Service)

ASTORIA, Ore.—Relics by the score were uncovered at the site of an old Civil War fortification on a little-used part of the Fort Stevens military reservation near here.

CCC troopers, who felled trees and cut out brush at the old fortification, found hundreds of cannon balls, including several of the huge, "fence bustin'" 15 caliber shot. The cannon balls had holes through the center, apparently meant to hold powder which would cause an explosion of the ball when it hit.

The old fort was constructed before the threat of surprise Indian raids had disappeared from this section. It contained 27 muzzle-loading cannons, and was surrounded by a moat, believed the last military defense of its kind ever constructed by the United States army. The fort was built mostly by hand labor at a cost of $400,000.

Men wouldn't swear, either, if they had a woman's knack of picking the right word to raise a blister.

HERE'S HOW YOU DO IT:

2. 10,391 motorists told us they average from other gasolines approximately 16.2 miles per gallon.
3. Certified tests prove that Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth owners can average 21.9 miles per gallon from Richfield Hi-Octane Gasoline.
4. Based on 8,500 miles a year, you need 136 gallons less when you use Richfield.

Trading In Market Is Slowed Down To Snail's Pace, Stocks Drift

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 7.—With trading slowing down to a snail's pace, stocks drifted lower today, after a momentary extension of the recovery in opening transactions Nervousness over the critical French situation offset additional bullish business news.

Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, N. Y. Central and American Can were off about a point each.

Mining shares, which have been well sponsored over the last few days on expectations of an inflationary trend in France, met with realizing today. McIntyre, Dome Mines and American Smelting lost a point or more.

Montgomery Ward held around last night's final quotations. Douglas Aircraft maintained a small profit margin, as did Great Western Sugar.

Farm Equipments were under moderate pressure. Case dropped two points and Deere one.

Bonds were irregular, with governments firm. Grains and cotton were improved somewhat.

Even silly things are useful. Many a two-car garage turned out to be a nice apartment for part of the family.

It may not be a punishment, but we never had so many twisters till that song began going 'round and around.

I'M ALWAYS glad when that salesman comes in about the 29th of the month. He's always good for a free lunch if I work the angles—or the curves.

Zion Church In Ambridge Scene Of Meeting; Mrs. F. H. Daubenspeck Is President

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—Fourteen members of the local Trinity Lutheran church motored to Ambridge yesterday where they attended the 17th annual convention of the Women and Young Women Missionary societies of the West Conference, Pittsburgh, at the Zion Lutheran church, Rev. C. E. Stahlman, pastor.

The theme of the meeting was "Peace" and was discussed by Mrs. Stahlman, Hrs. F. C. Hoch and Mrs. Edna Woods. An interesting address was given by Mrs. H. C. Reller, president of the Pittsburgh Synodical society. Her subject was "Silent Influences." Mrs. Meade Rugh of Charleroi gave a talk on "Latin America." This was followed with a clever sketch entitled, "Her Mother's Birthday Gift." A pageant, ""The Message of the Cross," was then given by the Young Women's Missionary society of the Zion church. There was special music throughout the program.

An important business meeting was then held with Mrs. F. H. Daubenspeck of this city, presiding. She was re-elected president of the organization at this time.

Those attending from this city were Rev. and Mrs. F. H. Daubenspeck, Mesdames Bessie Gulbrandsen, John Hayden, Richard Goehring, C. D. Ross, John Gabler, Emil Melzer, John Strohecker, John Duffy and H. F. Fleischer.

Police Working On Robbery Case Here

Two Clubs Are Broken Into Last Week At Ellwood City; Follow-up Clues

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—Ellwood City police are following up a number of clues in two robbery cases pulled here last week. The same party or parties is suspected for both jobs.

On Tuesday night, April 28, while the primary votes were being counted and attention was distracted, the Hungarian club was robbed. Entry was gained through a back window. Considerable damage was done to the wall near the counter where the wall safe was located. Some money was taken and a large amount of merchandise. Also money was taken from vending machines.

On Friday of the same week, May 1 the Moose club on Seventh street was broken into. When a large door could not be forced open a large window was pried open in the back. A quantity of whiskey was taken from the bar. Money was taken out of the vending machines here. The secretary's office was then broken into and the safe was cracked open. About $250 in cash was taken from this.

Z. E. C. Members Recess Till Fall

ELLWOOD CITY, May 7.—Last evening members of the Z. E. C. club motored to New Brighton, where they were guests at the home of Mrs. William Cowan for the regular semi-monthly meeting.

Misses Mildred O'Neill, Ruth Kistner and Ruth Schaefer were special guests.

Two tables of 500 were in play throughout the event and prizes went to Mrs. Edward Butler and Miss Schaefer. The hostess, assisted by Miss Kistner, served dainty refreshments.

At this time the members decided to disband until September 2, when they will be guests at the home of Mrs. T. H. Ter Linden, of Knox.

Interviewers Keep Mayor McGrath Busy

Police Affairs, Conferences And Interviews Monopolize His Time

Mayor Charles E. McGrath is kept busy from nine a. m. until 5 p. m. and he is a "full time mayor" according to observations made in city hall.

He reaches police headquarters at nine a. m., studies police reports concerning arrests then later holds police court.

After court trials are held he goes to his private office where usually a number of persons wishing to interview him are awaiting.

Now and then he is able to sandwich in councilmanic conferences where problems affecting the city are concerned.

Fable: Once a man warned his country of coming disaster, and everybody loved him and cheered.

If you feel tired, run-down, nervous and out of sorts

There is usually a definite reason for such complaints . . . so, now let's reason sensibly.

Don't try to get well in a day . . . this is asking too much of Nature. Remember, she has certain natural processes that just cannot be hurried.

But there is a certain scientific way you can assist by starting those digestive juices in the stomach to flowing more freely and at the same time supply a balanced mineral deficiency the body needs.

Therefore, if you are pale, tired, lack a keen appetite, have lost weight and feel rundown . . . a frequent sign that your blood-cells are weak, with a tendency towards anemia—then do try in the simple, easy way so many millions approve—by starting a course of S.S.S. Blood Tonic.

Much more could be said—a trial will thoroughly convince you that this way, in the absence of any organic trouble, will start you on the road to feeling like yourself again. © S.S.S. Co.
